

NICOLA BREYTENBACH clearly hasn't figured out how to work the Status application!

What do you love about Facebook?

I love all the different applications, like the photo albums. I also love that you can see what your friends are up to, and what they're thinking and feeling all the time. It's much easier than sending individual messages to all your friends.

When did you discover it?

A friend of mine sent me an invitation to join about six weeks ago.

Do you accept all friend requests?

I don't accept people I don't know even if they are friends of friends.

Have you been stalked?

I wouldn't call it stalking, but I've had a lot of friend requests from random guys with some interesting comments!

Any words of wisdom for non-Facebook users?

Be careful before you join - it's very addictive!
