

MY MOST EMBARRASSING MOMENT

NICOLA BREYTENBACH, SUPERMODEL

About five years ago, VH1 were broadcasting the Vogue Fashion Awards live. In between the awards, I was modelling Versace, Dior and Chloe on a mini-runway.

I had just done Versace and Dior, but when I got to wearing Chloe, right before I could cross the stage, my heels caught on the metal ends of the steps. I didn't stumble - I fell flat on my face. I heard the audience in the stadium gasp.

Then they aired the clip of me landing on my face every day for a week. We all have these moments, and it's good to share them.
